WHAT IS A ROAD-E-O?

The SWANA Road-E-O is a fantastic opportunity for the front line employees in the solid waste management field – Truck Drivers, Equipment Operators and Mechanics – to obtain education through training and networking. The Road-E-O also gives these hard working employees a chance to display their skills in a competitive arena.

Competitors from both the public and private sectors are welcome to participate. There are three types of competition events—landfill equipment, trucks, and equipment/truck mechanics.

The 2024 Road-E-O will feature four truck events: roll-off, front loader, tractor-trailer and automated side loader. It will also include the mechanics event and four landfill equipment events: the landfill compactor, the articulated front-end loader, hydraulic excavator and the dozer.

All competitors receive training, complete a written test, CDL pre-trip inspection, and either a driving obstacle course or troubleshooting exercise.

Competition winners are determined by the highest combined score for the day's categories. The winners are announced on Saturday at the awards banquet.

As with all SWANA events, there is a high level of professionalism. The Road-E-O is one of the only events strictly for the front-line employees. The friendly rivalry, networking and educational components make the Road-E-O a winning combination!
